

Have You Heard?

By Dorothy McCain E'senius

Albany residents attending this year's Renaissance Pleasure Faire in Novato, have been pleasantly surprised at seeing same familiar faces in very unfamiliar costumes.

Lisa Stadelhoffer, a June graduate of Albany High and now a student at Merritt College, along with AHS students Mike McCool, Malcolm Michael, Art Turney, Bob Clayberg and Villia Hogg, and eighth grader Mark McCool, have been performing at the Faire as wandering minstrels and entertainers.

These Albany students spent many long hours, earlier this summer, rehearsing songs from the Renaissance period and writing and preparing their own skits for the pleasure of Faire-goers.

If you haven't attended the Faire yet, there's still time, as it will continue until October 8.

May Olson has received a note from "New Eyes for the Needy" in New Jersey, thanking her and the local residents who helped this organization provide glasses and artificial eyes to more than half a million needy people in the US and abroad. The uniqueness of New Eyes is that it is a non-profit, volunteer charity that never asks for money.

All they ask is that everyone remembers to save discarded eye glasses and precious metal scrap, such as jewelry (antique, real or costume), silverware, dentures, hearing aids, etc. If you have any of these items you wish to donate, just drop them off at Ellis-Olson Mortuary, 727 San Pablo Ave. Every little bit helps that needy person to see!

Two local residents were among the winners in the KNBR radio station's Silver and Black Oakland Raider Sweepstakes. Linda Laufenberg of Albany, and James Bragg Jr. of El Cerrito, both won Oakland Raider Pendleton stadium blankets in the contest. They should be nice and warm while attending the games—and it looks like winter will soon be here!

We wonder if any of the people who are ignoring the warnings against storing extra gas in their cars and garages realize that the explosive power of one gallon of gasoline has been compared to FOURTEEN STICKS OF D-D-N-A-M-I-T-E??? Read Albany Fire Capt. Ray Gonsalves' article on the danger of storing gas which appears in today's Times.

So, as the man says, just because gasoline prices are going up, is no reason for you to go up with them!

Anyone who thinks political campaigning is fun and consists mostly of attending receptions and parties, kissing babies and handing out brochures should talk to Jerome Waldie, California congressman, who recently ended 33 days of the first phase of his walking campaign for the Democratic nomination for Governor.

"BICYCLING CAN BE FUN, if you follow the rules of the road for your safety and that of others," Albany Police Chief James Simmons (left) and Officer John Ford of the Police Department's Bicycle Detail, explain to 10 year old Jimmy Harris, son of Albany Police Sergeant James Harris, as they show the young bicyclist the first in a series of bicycle lessons to be published weekly in the Albany Times. A "marked increase" in bicycle accidents has been reported, and law enforcement agencies feel it is due to cyclists not knowing the laws. In an effort to educate local bicyclists, the Albany Police Department is offering a series of educational articles for bicyclists.

Timely Lessons For Our Young Area Bicyclists

By JOHN T. FORD,
Albany Police Dept.
Bicycle Detail

Not since the late 1880s has bicycling been so popular in the United States. More people are riding bikes for transportation and health reasons than ever before in our history! But, this pleasant and healthy mode of travel has created even greater traffic problems than we had previously.

With the growth of adult cycling interest, there has also been a great increase in the number of bicycles being ridden by pre-teen and teenage children, due to our society's growing affluence. National accident statistics prove that most of these children are allowed to venture forth into the streets and highways without proper instructions relative to traffic regulations and safety precautions.

This is the introduction to a 13 article series on safe biking provided by this department. Each article following will be slanted to the youngster in your family who uses a bicycle on the public streets and highways. They will be presented in lesson form, with questions at the conclusion of each. Parents are invited to use this series as training material. When all questions are answered correctly, showing that your child has absorbed the material, file them away.

When all lesson have been completed to your satisfaction, at the conclusion of the series, the child may mail them to this department, at 1000 San Pablo Ave., Albany, CA 94706, and he will receive a wallet-size card showing that he has satisfactorily completed the course.

It is felt this should provide sufficient motivation to teach each youngster in our community the tremendous importance of safe biking. Correct answers to all questions will be found in the body of each lesson.

If you have a pre-teen or young teen in your family, using a bicycle on the streets, why not join in this very important safety campaign?

Next Week: Lesson No. 1. Safe Bike Lights and When to Use Them.

Note of Thanks

We would like to express our sincere appreciation and thanks to members of the Albany Police and Fire Depts. for their quick assistance last week, when our granddaughter was stricken suddenly and had to be rushed to Children's Hospital.

We would also like to thank our friends for their concern and to let them all know that Jennel is at home and recovering nicely from the virus infection.

Stored Gas Could Be A Great Source of Trouble

The Albany Fire Department is alerting local citizens to the hazards of storing extra gasoline in automobiles and garages. Due to the current so-called gasoline shortage, many people are carrying extra gasoline in cans in their vehicles, in an attempt not to run short of fuel.

The Fire Department notes that the explosive power of one gallon of gasoline has been compared to that of 14 sticks of dynamite!

Fuel and its vapors are soon parted—and even a safety can is powerless to prevent a fire or an explosion in a car trunk, once gasoline vapors have escaped through the relief vent and an ignition source is present.

Common ignition sources include: static electricity, sparks from a light switch, electrical appliances or car ignition, matches, cigarettes and water heater pilot lights (the latter has been termed the number 1 gasoline explosion catalyst in the home, according to Captain Ray Gonsalves of the Department's Fire Prevention Bureau).

In a controlled demonstration taking place a few weeks ago, two safety experts placed a safety can full of gasoline in the trunk of an automobile, left the engine running and moved to a safe distance to wait and observe. Within 20 minutes the entire back end of the car was blown off in an explosion. The two experts reasoned that as the car became warmer, the gas expanded and generated enough pressure to force vapors out of the vented cap. In the closed car trunk these vapors soon reached explosive proportions and only needed an ignition source—perhaps a short in the tail light circuit, a hot exhaust pipe, etc.—to touch off the explosion.

Capt. Gonsalves also asks Albany residents to bear in mind that a can of gasoline in their car's trunk or passenger compartment could easily turn a minor traffic collision into a fiery holocaust.

Hill Projects Raise Albany Building Permits To New High

With permits issued in August for the first phase of the Interstate General Corporation's complex, and three duplex dwellings being constructed on Jackson Street by Albany architect, Leon Rimov, the value of Albany's building permits for the month of August rose to $14,678,392, an increase of $14,102,999 over that of August, 1972, mainly due to Albany Hill construction.

The first phase of the IGC project will consist of 529 units in five main buildings, and are being constructed by Williams and Burrows, Inc., at a cost of $14,500,000.

The three Rimov duplexes will be built at 555, 564 and 575 Jackson Street, at a cost of $38,500 each.

Also included in last month's building permits was a paint spray auxiliary structure at the Buehr Co., 1061 Eastshore, being built at a cost of $6,000.

Other permits issued during the month of August included: 27 for residential alteration, 1 for a residential addition, 26 for

Soccer Season Opening Sunday

The East Bay Soccer League begins the season play with two games slated for Albany's Cougar Field, Sunday, Sept. 30.

Albany vs. Oakland Michoacan will kickoff Sunday's event at 12:30 p.m., followed by St. Bernard of Oakland vs. El Cerrito squaring off in the second match at 2:15 p.m.

St. Bernard, still smarting from last season's drop to fourth place in the East Bay circuit, will attempt to beat host team, El Cerrito, in the first division encounter of the season.

El Cerrito has added two area players to bolster its roster. Jeff Gillet and Jesse Pena, two natives of the Bay Area, will head the attack for El Cerrito, which has played "bridesmaid" to the East Bay title for the past two years.

Cougar Field, located on Brighton Avenue, will be the site of two games each Sunday throughout the season, with at least one first division game scheduled each week. Parking facilities are available near H. C. Capwells in the El Cerrito Plaza. Admission for all games will be $1 for adults, 50 cents for Senior Citizens and students and 25 cents for those under 12. Children under six will be admitted free of charge.

reroofing and 5 for wet sand-blasting, making a total of 64 permits issued as against 53 for the same month last year, according to James B. Turner, Albany administrative officer.

Boat Safety Class Starts October 2

Council Supports Vote Of New Pollution Board Bill

Three members of the Albany City Council, at Monday night's meeting, voted to support the veto of Assembly Bill 2467, as requested by Gerald M. Pozanovich of the Bay Area Pollution Control District. Councilman Richard Clark voted "No," and Councilman Hubert Call was absent.

According to correspondence from Pozanovich, the bill would establish a new board for the Pollution District, consisting of 13 elected directors, plus nine supervisors (one appointed by each of the 9 counties that comprise the District), thus eliminating all city representatives.

In addition, the District representative noted, the Bill would automatically submerge the District into any regional government that would be established in the future. The effect would be to set a precedent for a nine-county directly-elected government agency, with total expenses of the new board likely to exceed $175,000, and, according to Pozanovich, a substantial increase of cost to the taxpayers without corresponding benefits.

In other action, during the short council meeting, a letter from Dario Meniketti, concerning home occupations, was referred to a work session the Council will hold with the Planning and Zoning Commission tonight.

Correspondence from James D. Driscoll, Chief Clerk, State of California, concerning Concurrent Resolution No. 36, relative to the appointment of women to boards, commissions, committees and councils, was filed as "informative." During the discussion, Mayor Lewis Howell said he felt Albany had already been appointing women to boards and commissions for quite some time, and that he, himself, had made many such appointments.

Council members also voted unanimously to support the City of Richmond's request to modify the designation of Highway 17, between the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge and the Eastshore Freeway in Albany.

Richmond is attempting to have the Dept. of Transportation declare that Highway 17 is, and will be, a freeway of statewide importance, thus speeding up the possible construction of the entire freeway. City Attorney Larry Saler was instructed to prepare a resolution in support of Richmond's request.

Under the "good of the City," several Albany Hill residents brought up the subject of last Sunday's motorcycle races, held at Golden Gate Fields. Mrs. Thelma Rubin, Mrs. Ruth Gansong and Mrs. Catherine Webb, all stated they were extremely bothered by the noises generated by the cycles. Mrs. Rubin stated the noise in her area was "intolerable," and felt this type of racing should not be permitted.

Councilman Joe Carlevaro stated he had visited the Hill area on Sunday to check out the problem, and admitted that there was definitely a "noise factor."

Mayor Howell commented that the races had been staged in an effort to find a use of Golden Gate Fields during off-season, in order to increase the City's revenue. He further stated that, although he would like to see some further use made of the track, he did not think this was the right one. He added, that in spite of the noise, the group involved with the cycle races had been well-disciplined and had not caused any trouble—except for the noise.

Mrs. Thelma Rubin also requested that the City post the ordinance on the crest of the Hill, banning wheeled vehicles, as there had been many trespassers in the area. Councilman Clark and Carlevaro suggested that since this is now City property, perhaps a chain or other barrier which could be moved in an emergency, could be erected.

George's First Weather Report

With the first rains of the season, our old friend George Bernard the Weatherman, is back on the scene to report a total of .78 inches of rainfall for Sept. 20 and 22, which caused several auto accidents and a few PG&E utility pole fires around town.

Last year's first rainfall came a few days later, on Sept. 25, for a total of 1.17 inches.

What kind of a winter will we have this year? Well, George says it looks like maybe "another wet one," even though a popular radio and TV weather forecaster says it should be "just average."

Only time will tell who is right. Maybe Harry Geis will have to move over and make room for George Bernard.

City Employees Safety Contest

All Albany City employees, both full and part time, are invited to enter a Safety Contest, sponsored by the City's Safety Committee, according to Albany Fire Capt. William Lanctot, Committee chairman.

A first prize of $100 and a second of $50, will be awarded to the city employees making the best safety suggestions pertaining to city buildings, work areas, employees, etc. which would help to make Albany a safer place to live or work in.

The contest will be in effect from Oct. 1 until Dec. 31, and employees may submit as many suggestions as they wish. In case of duplicate suggestions the one bearing the earliest date will be used.

All entries will be judged by a committee of judges composed of Capt. Lanctot, City administrative officer James Turner, and William Barr of Chubb Pacific Indemnity Group. Prize money is being donated by the Albany Association of Insurance Agents, through the cooperation of Mr. Clark Armstrong. Winners will receive their awards at a regular Albany City Council meeting sometime next January.

ALAMEDA COUNTY DEMOCRATIC WOMEN'S STUDY CLUB

A representative of the League of Women Voters of Oakland will discuss Proposition 1, the tax initiative, when the Club meets for the regular luncheon meeting Wednesday, Oct. 3, at Tom Lovely's, 336 Grand Ave. All interested persons are cordially invited to attend.

Lee Keck Heads Bond Committee

At a meeting September 19, Leonard (Lee) Keck was unanimously elected Chairman of Albany Citizen's Bond Committee. Mr. Keck is a longtime Albany resident and a former city councilman. An "old hand" at working in school bond campaigns, he stressed the benefits to Albany citizens of passage of the current bond proposal.

"Though community response to former plans, experience gained from last year's school session, and careful groundwork by Superintendent McCully and his staff, we have the best bond proposal yet. We intend to give Albany voters facts on the merits of this proposed $1,620,000 bond issue."

Mr. Keck also noted that two facts make this election critical: (1) The University's offer to sell Gill Tract land to the Albany Schools expires on December 31, 1973; and (2) Building costs are rising in excess of one percent each month.

Measure A will qualify under provisions set forth in Proposition 9 passed in the June 1972 state-wide election. Passage of the measure will require a simple majority of ballots cast. Anyone residing in Albany on October 7, 1973, is eligible to vote on the bond issue. Voters may register at the firehouse up to and including October 7.

The Bond Committee will be meeting regularly every Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Cornell School cafeteria. Citizens wishing to help in the campaign or needing questions answered are heartily invited to attend.

NOTICE

October 7 is the deadline for registering to vote in the upcoming November Reagan Tax Reform Bill and Albany School Bond elections.

Voters must be registered at the current address to be eligible to vote. Voters must register or re-register if they have moved from their old precinct since the last election, or if they are new residents of Albany.

Those who did not vote in last November's election, as well as those who will be 18 years old by November 6, must also register to be eligible to vote.

Albany residents may register at Albany City Hall daily, from 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, until Oct. 5. Those unable to register during City Hall hours, may do so at the Albany Fire Station, Marin and Buchanan, until 9 p.m. daily, and on weekends and holidays.

Co-Ed Bowling At Albany Bowl

The Albany Bowl is again forming Junior-Hi and High School Bowling Leagues. Last year 275,000 boys and girls enjoyed the sport of bowling, under regular league play.

Cost will be $2.35 for the first day, and $1.35 per session from then on.

The High School Co-Ed League began bowling at 3:30, Tuesday, Sept. 25, and trio leagues are being formed, consisting of 3 boys or 3 girls or mixed.

Unique Tele-Care Program Keeps Check on Those Who Live Alone

Mrs. Barbara Bosovich of Albany, is one of the many dedicated volunteers who help in the Herick Memorial Hospital Guild's "Tele-Care" program.

Tele-Care is a free service offered by the Guild. Each day, including weekends and holidays, volunteers make phone calls to some 260 people who live alone—just to make sure they are all right. If there is no answer, the volunteer then dials that person's alternate—a relative, friend, neighbor, or even a social worker, who hopefully has a key to the home.

Widows, widowers, senior citizen couples, convalescents and lonely shut-ins in Alameda, Contra Costa and San Francisco counties, are among the "Tele-Pets" who receive friendly, reassuring telephone calls each morning.

"We rescue at least 35 or 40 people each year," Mrs. Bosovich says. "For some of these people, our call is the only one they get each day. They love hearing from us and this program helps them keep independent. They want their own things around them, and they don't want to live with relatives gives them just the sense of security they need."

"We don't always have much time to talk," she continued, "But there are times when you must spend a little more time with certain people. We also send greeting cards to our 'Tele-Pets' on birthdays and holidays, and 'cheer-up' cards are mailed to anyone who sounds 'super-blue'."

Although the Tele-Pets are supposed to let the volunteers know when they will be out, they sometimes forget, and the volunteers just "keep calling until they are home or accounted for."

"We get so attached to these people, we can't help but worry about them," says Barbara Bosovich, "an they worry about us, too. When the regular caller for the day is out sick, the substitute is asked over and over where 'so and so' is. It's a beautiful relationship, without the eye-to-eye contact."

Tele-Care, truly a program with heart, is beginning its fourth year of operation, and recently received national attention, when it was selected as a semi-finalist in the National Volunteer Awards Competition. Anyone wishing to become a Tele-Care caller, or wishing to receive a daily call from Tele-Care, should call 845-0130, and become part of something wonderful!

MAN AND HIS ENVIRONMENT

In the midst of the current environmental panic, one man does not feel the environment is in as bad condition as some would have us believe.

Said British Scientist D. G. Hessayon in his 1972 Tennant Memorial Lecture at the University of Strathclyde, "In England, smoke concentrations have fallen 80 per cent in the past 10 years. Sulphur dioxide is down 40 per cent. Now on an average winter day in London, visibility is four miles. In 1958, the average visibility was one mile."

"There are now 55 species of fish in the lower Thames river where there were none 15 years ago."

"There have been no adult deaths from pesticides, but last year, in the same 12-month period, 11 people were gored to death by bulls," Z

Incentives for Investing

Does favorable tax treatment on capital gains benefit you? Even if you don't invest in the stock market, the answer is yes. Equitable capital gains taxes encourage individual investors to funnel money to industry. With these dollars invested in private enterprise, companies build plants and buy machinery, equipment and computers. This means more jobs, goods and services—and a higher standard of living for all of us. If incentives are reduced, fewer people will invest . . . and expansion will halt. In our economy, it takes money to make jobs. Z

Mexicano Dance Exhibit Opening

The Folklorico Mexicano will be performing in the new Paramount Theater of the Arts in Oakland, at 3 and 8 p.m., on Saturday, Sept. 29, and at 1 and 2:30 p.m., Sunday, Sept. 30.

Acclaimed by critics as the best and most colorful show to ever come out of Mexico, the program features a combination of classical ballet and modern dancing in a fiesta of regional dances, under the direction of Ema Pulido, one of Mexico's best dancers.

Choreographer for the production is Hector Fink Mendoza, Dance Director of the City of Mexico, who is assisted by Florencio Yescas, as guest choreographer.

Although the average age of the dancers is 21 years, they have much professional experience. From the time they are accepted, besides their regular shows, the dancers rehearse and take lessons for a total of 18 hours per week when in residence in Acapulco, and 12 hours per week when on tour. Their lessons include modern dancing, classical ballet and tap techniques, with only the best teachers for each specialty.

Have You Heard? 'Peg' Torstrom To Serve Second Term in PTA Post

nia counties, "Jerry" averaged 14 miles a day on hard pavement and went through 23 pairs of socks, six cans of foot powder and three pairs of shoes . . . and lost 10 pounds.

He plans to take his "walking and listening campaign" back to the highways and streets in mid-November, to end up, hopefully, in Sacramento by Christmas.

Many local citizens will remember Jerry Waldie when he lived in Albany as a resident of University Village, while he attended UC in Berkeley to get his law degree.

Someone called to remind us that we have been a little remiss with birthday wishes . . . so "Belated Birthday Greetings" to: Joe Neal, "Cuz" Cesarillo, Bill Milligan, June Stock, Myrtle Donahue, Betty de Luchi, Betty Rhodes, Kay Fritz and Julia White.

And Happy Birthday to: Sally Nelson on Sept. 27 and Isabelle Moors on Sept. 30. Sorry about that . . . but some people have reached the time when they do not like to be reminded of birthdays . . .

Maybe some of our readers who were Albany residents 30 or more years ago will recall a little paper boy named Malcolm Currie, who lived at that time at 823 Key Route Blvd.

Well, Malcolm has gone a long way since he left our fair City and the latest news on the former paper boy is, following a career in electronic engineering, during which he taught electrical engineering at UC in Berkeley and Los Angeles, was a member of the Hughes Aircraft Co. for 14 years and vice-president of research and development for Beckman Instruments, Inc. he has been nominated by President Nixon for the post of Director of Defense Research and Engineering — subject to confirmation by the US Senate!

Rich Man's Game?

Many people think F. Scott Fitzgerald's phrase "the rich are different from you and me" is especially true when it comes to the stock market. But the rich aren't the only investors. A 1970 survey shows that among the 30 million U.S. investors over two-thirds had adjusted gross incomes under $15,000. It follows that if the capital gains tax is increased, all of us would feel the pinch. No wonder an increased capital gains tax is one "reform" the average man doesn't want.

NATIVE DAUGHTERS OF THE GOLDEN WEST

Officers serving with Mrs. Torstrom for the 1973-74 year include: administrative assistant, Mrs. Phillip Martin; first vice-presidents, Mrs. Robert Nichols and Mrs. Raymond DeJong; second vice-president, Mrs. James Burns; third vice-president, Mrs. John Thomsen; Secretary, Mrs. James McWilliams and treasurer, Mrs. Raymond Nelson.

Others include: Mrs. Charles Brockhoff, auditor; Mrs. Galen Rowell, historian; Mrs. George Jaekle, parliamentarian; Mrs. Jewel Okawachi, director of education; Mrs. William Hartung, director of organization and extension; Mrs. Phillip Martin, director of Health, and Mrs. Raymond DeJong, director of

Deadline Set For PG&E Scholarships

High school seniors attending school or living in Pacific Gas and Electric Company's northern and central California service area, are eligible to apply for the company's James B. Black scholarship program, which each year awards a $4,000 college scholarship to 16 outstanding seniors. Scholarships are payable at $1,000 per year while the winners attend an accredited college or university.

The 32 runners-up in the program will each receive a $500 one-time scholarship award.

Twelve of the scholarships are awarded each year on a geographical basis. Two are awarded in area-wide competition to minority students, who have been recommended by high school principals and counselors, for having made significant achievements despite economic, environmental or motivational disadvantages. The two remaining awards are set aside for sons and daughters of PG&E employees.

All candidates are interviewed by panels of impartial local judges, and 48 finalists—three for each scholarship—are chosen. From this group the 16 ultimate winners are selected by a panel of judges meeting in San Francisco.

Application forms and booklets giving full details are now available through local high school counseling services and/or from local PG&E offices. Deadline for filing has been announced as October 31.

parent and family life education. Also Mrs. John Sofranac, chairman of continuing service award; Mrs. Oliver Ganoung, hospitality and Mrs. Zetta Lynn Pope, registrar.

Special guests expected to attend the luncheon include Mrs. A. Williams, president and members of the 16th District PTA Board; Albany Unified School District administrators, headed by the new Superintendent of Schools, Charles McCully; PTA unit presidents and delegates to Council, and members of the press.

Tickets, at $3.25 per person are available from Mrs. Nichols, 524-7764; Mrs. DeJong, 526-6802 or any Albany PTA unit president. Deadline for reservations is Thurs., Sept. 27. The public is cordially invited to attend.

TB Chest X-Rays No Longer Used

Alameda County Health Officer, Dr. Morton Nelson, has announced that the Alameda County Health Care Services Agency has discontinued the mini-film chest x-ray, as a means of screening for tuberculosis.

Persons who now request a TB test will, in most instances, be given a tuberculin skin test. A "positive" skin test will then be followed up by other diagnostic tests, such as a large chest X-ray, as indicated. Only individuals who have had previous "positive" reactions to a skin test will be given a large chest X-ray initially.

Dr. Nelson notes that the mini-film X-ray has been discontinued, in favor of the skin test, because the latter has proven a more effective and efficient method of detecting tuberculosis.

For further information, please call 874-7196.

ARLINGTON WOMEN'S CLUB

Members will hear about "Today's China," with special emphasis on the women of Red China, when Mrs. Robert A. Scalapino, a recent guest of the Chinese government, speaks at the Club meeting Tues., Oct. 2, at 1 p.m., in the Arlington Community Church Auditorium.

Mrs. Dean V. Murphy will be chairman of the general meeting.

Red Cross Needs Help For Special Programs

Volunteers, willing to devote an hour or two a week to visit with a lonely older, or helping a blind person, are being offered special training for the Red Cross Friendly Visitors and Volunteer Aides to the Blind (VAB) programs in a series of classes to start on Oct. 3.

Classes for men and women of all ages will be held at Red Cross Headquarters, 2116 Allston Way, Berkeley on four consecutive Wednesdays, Oct. 3, 10, 17, and 24, from 9 a.m. until noon.

All volunteers will be required to take the first three classes.

Volunteers are also being recruited to help in the Oakland Naval Hospital at the Marin Luther King School for the Trainable Mentally Retarded, and at the Berkeley Red Cross headquarters.

Hospital volunteers are needed to perform such personal services as shopping, teaching crafts, helping in recreation programs and assisting in the clinics and labs.

Those interested in volunteering for any of these services are requested to call the Berkeley-Albany Red Cross headquarters, 845-1430. Advance registration is required for the Friendly Visitors and Blind Aides' classes.

ALBANY UNIFIED SCHOOL DISTRICT ELECTION NOTICE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN to the voters of the Albany Unified School District of Alameda County, State of California, that in accordance with the provisions of the Education Code of the State of California, and the resolution of the governing board of the district, an election will be held on Tuesday, November 6, 1973, in said district, at which time there will be submitted to the voters of said district the following measure:

MEASURE — Shall the Albany Unified School District of Alameda County incur a bonded indebtedness in the principal amount of One Million Six Hundred Twenty Thousand Dollars ($1,620,000) to bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding 7% per annum payable annually the first year and thereafter semi-annually, to provide funds for the replacement of the following school building unit which has been determined to be structurally unsafe in the event of an earthquake:

Cornell School, 919 Cornell Avenue: demolish the auditorium-administration unit and the west classroom building; construct new school facilities on the Cornell School site and on the Gill Tract site; said amount of bonds (together with funds to be obtained from the State of California) in aggregate principal amount, shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding 7% per annum payable annually the first year and semi-annually thereafter, and the number of years the bonds or any series thereof are to run shall not exceed 25 years from the date of said bonds or such series thereof.

If at said election the requisite number of voters cast their ballots in favor of the issuance of the bonds, the bonds shall be issued and sold in the manner provided by law and the proceeds used for the purposes specified in said measure.

If at said election the measure to initiate the governing board's plan is not approved and authorized, the governing board shall, in accordance with the same or a modified plan, submit proposals to authorize the issuance of bonds or to increase the tax rate not later than five years following the date of said election.

By order of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Alameda, at the request of the governing board of said district and of the County Superintendent of Schools of Alameda County, said bond election has been consolidated with the special statewide election to be held on November 6, 1973, throughout the State of California insofar as the territory in which said elections are to be held is the same, to wit, within the boundaries of the Albany Unified School District of Alameda County. BURK, Deceased, will sell at private sale, subject to confirmation of the above entitled Superior Court, on or after October 12, 1973, to the highest and best bidder for cash in lawful money of the United States and upon the terms and conditions hereinafter mentioned, all of the right, title, interest and estate of the above named decedent and his estate in and to the following described real property:

Does the United States have the strongest economic growth rate in the world? During the 1960s, our annual rate of economic growth was about 4%; Japan's was 11%. One reason: of ten industrial nations, the U.S. devoted the smallest share of its total output to capital investment. Ever more stringent capital gains taxes will discourage the small investor, backbone of our economy. If Americans are to assume the risks involved in investing, incentives in the form of equitable capital gains taxes must be provided.

An Environmental Riddle

Some of the "evidence" against pesticides is being questioned by scientists and environmentalists.

Citing a recent report that "samples of soil, sealed since 1910, were tested for pesticide residues," a British scientist, Dr. D. G. Hessayon noted that "32 of the 34 tested samples showed trace residues, yet these particular pesticides were not in use until well into the 1940's."

The undersigned reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

LAW IN ACTION

FISTS OF FURY
"Cool it, Matt!" yelled the construction workers.

It all began when Matt, a construction worker, stopped his dump truck on the work site. Cassius, another worker, told him to move.

Matt replied with some choice cuss words. Cassius responded with a few of his own.

Matt climbed down off his truck and walked toward Cassius.

Cassius was much smaller than Matt. He picked up some rocks and backed away, warning Matt not to come any closer. But Matt lunged at Cassius and his hard hat fell off.

Cassius bounced one of his rocks off Matt's head.

Matt's injuries were permanent. He claimed Workmen's Compensation since he'd been hurt on the job.

Matt lost. He was the aggressor and guilty of willful misconduct. The law bars recovery of damages by aggressors.

On the other hand, there was Fred and Hank, having a friendly game of catch with some metal pipes they were loading onto a truck. Hank slipped; a pipe hit him on the head. He sued for Workmen's Compensation. And he got it.

"In any group of workers there is bound to be some 'horseplay,'" said the court. "Since it arose out of the employment, the injury may be job."

compensated." Any worker who is injured at a job-connected party, picnic or game may receive damages.

Take the late Don Dollar, for example. He was a bank officer who went to the annual Bankers' Convention.

There was a late-hours party. Then Don persuaded a young lady to join him in his room for more partying. He fell asleep and a cigarette-fire killed him. Don's widow claimed Workmen's Compensation and recovered.

"An employer should expect a conventioner to do some partying," said the court. "And during the course of his employment he might be injured."

The Workmen's Compensation laws do away with the concepts of "fault, negligence and assumption of risk." If the worker is hurt on the job, or due to his employment, he is compensated. The laws are favorably interpreted for the workman. The only exceptions are for intoxication, self-infliction, suicide, and aggression. Even in these cases, however, a worker may get compensation if his actions are a result of pressures imposed by his job.

Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.

No Path to Revenue

Will an increased earnings tax pour more money into the Treasury? Not likely, it does indicate the higher tax on capital gains, the people will defer taking gains. Fewer gains taken means fewer gains taxed and potentially lower revenues to the government. A 1970 survey shows that if the capital gains hadn't increased, people would have taken $3.5 billion more gains... yielding more revenue. An equitable capital gains would encourage investors to turn over their investments, would increase government revenues.

Pepper Steak is a Picnic to Prepare

Pepper Steak Italiano is a quick and different main dish. Serve with antipasto and a pasta-kidney bean-tomato salad.

NEW YORK (ED)—Pepper Steak in the Italian manner is a different main dish that's a picnic to prepare—for dining indoors or out. Unlike the more ordinary French version, which uses pepper-corns and wine sauce, Pepper Steak Italiano is made with roasted peppers, celery and tomato-mushroom sauce. And cooking time is only about fifteen minutes—just enough to put together a simple antipasto of green and black olives, mushroom caps, chick peas and fried peppers (all straight from the Italian section of the supermarket; no preparation work required).

When the occasion is festive, round out the meal with one of the vegetable and pasta salads that are staples of the Italian kitchen. An easy choice—to prepare in advance—blends a half-pound of cooked macaroni shells with three sliced tomatoes and a cup of red kidney beans, right from the can. Season with oregano, grated Parmesan cheese, salt and pepper to taste, then toss with olive oil and vinegar dressing.

PEPPER STEAK ITALIANO

1 lb. round steak
1/4 cup olive oil
salt and pepper
1/4 cup finely diced onion
1 clove garlic
1/4 tsp. oregano
1 jar (7 1/2 oz.) Progresso roasted peppers, cut in 1-inch strips
1 cup sliced celery
1 1/2 cups Progresso spaghetti sauce with mushrooms

Slice steak diagonally, into thin slices. Heat olive oil with salt and pepper in a skillet, add steak slices and cook over high heat until brown, stirring frequently. Pour off half the oil and lower flame. Add onions, garlic, roasted peppers, celery and spaghetti sauce and stir to blend. Cover and cook over medium heat about 10 minutes. Serves 4.

PENSIONERS CRITICAL OF LABOR UNIONS

Princeton, N.J. — (HK) — A recent survey by Opinion Research Corporation shows that pensioners are particularly critical of labor unions.

Some of the ORC survey results show 61 percent of the pensioners and other elderly retired persons polled feel that labor unions have grown too powerful and should be regulated by the government.

8th in Series

According to the survey's results, about 43 percent of those pensioners polled say labor is responsible for inflation, while 80 percent surveyed say that union wage demands will cause higher prices. Pensioners are also strongly against permitting government employees to strike.

The ORC survey was conducted for Business Roundtable, an organization of business executives that seeks to bolster efforts to curb inflation, improve labor-management relations and assist in promoting the economic growth of the nation.

Other major findings of the survey—the eighth in a series—demonstrated serious concern over the impact that union wage demands will have on inflation, that union leaders are not being responsive to public needs, and that union members should have the right of a secret ballot before going out on strike.

These findings are from a nationwide probability sample of the adult population age 18 and over. The interviews were personally conducted in the homes of 2,035 respondents, including 502 pensioners or other elderly persons living on fixed incomes, and 277 thought leaders.

OPEN COMPETITION

DRIVING the Marathon Oil Chevron, Britain's Peter Gethin made racing history when he beat world champion Emerson Fittipaldi and other top Formula 1 drivers in England's race of champions. The victory marked the first time a Formula 5000 racer, Gethin's car, beat a Grand Prix Formula 1 in open competition.

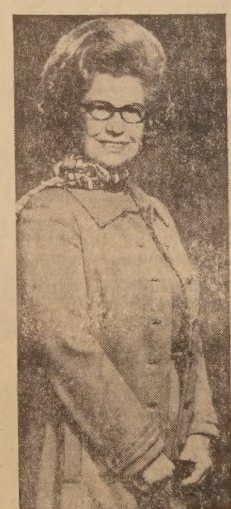

The Lender is a Lady

A new government and private undertaking is helping arrange low-cost educational loans to students around the country. Called the Student Loan Marketing Association (or "Sallie Mae"), the organization will provide the student loan market with greater liquidity... that is, more money for lending. But you don't want to go to Harvard? "Sallie Mae" won't discriminate—funds are available for students enrolling in technical and vocational schools, too. If you're planning on furthering your education, ask your school or local bank how "Sallie Mae" can help you.

Go to the Head of the Class

You can never get too much education... but you can't get enough education if you don't have enough money. To reconcile these two statements, find out about "Sallie Mae," the nickname for the Student Loan Marketing Association. This combined government and private undertaking will stimulate additional capital into the student loan market. And that means more money for students who need a hand with financing. More good news: Sallie Mae student loans are available for technical and vocational students as well as the university-bound.

PTA People Taking Action—For Every Child!

EVERY CHILD NEEDS YOU is the theme for the administration of newly elected National PTA President, Mrs. Lillie E. Herndon. She invites you to share an adventure of greatest purpose and deepest commitment, that of becoming an achiever for children by joining the PTA.

PTA is known by many names... Parent-Teacher Association... National PTA... National Congress of Parents and Teachers... People Taking Action. Whatever it's called, PTA is one dynamic nationwide organization, with a membership of more than 8,000,000 people united in their efforts on behalf of every child.

In fact, the scope of the PTA is so great—it's the country's largest volunteer organization—that many members find it difficult to realize that they automatically become a part of this nationwide network when they join the PTA at their child's school.

Many are also unaware that a number of services to children which we take for granted today were accomplished with the help of PTA. Benefits as varied as the hot lunch program in schools... making kindergarten a part of the public school system... the Pure Food and Drug Act... child labor laws... automatic fire sprinklers and fire escapes in schools... the planning and promotion of an educational campaign for prevention of polio... the Drug Abuse Education Act... all were either sponsored or endorsed by the PTA.

Today, the PTA continues to be active in causes for children. Recent continuing programs designed by the PTA for action in the local community include "Project RISE" which can help assure every child the right to read; "Volunteers In The Courts" which can help a child in trouble to a more productive life; "Smoking and Alcohol Education" which helps seek solutions to two of America's serious health problems; and a "Continuing Education for Parents" which can enhance family life.

PTA as an organization is not just concerned with tea-and-cookie meetings in a classroom or with raising funds to buy school equipment. PTA proves that achieving for children can be an exciting and challenging adventure. The PTA in Idaho sued the state for misusing and mismanaging land endowment funds intended for public education—and won. The PTA in Appleton, Wisconsin, supported a drug abuse education project which gained national attention. And PTA's in many parts of the country are taking a more active role at the decision-making level in their public school systems.

In PTA, there is something for everyone interested in being an achiever for children. Membership in PTA is probably the best buy around these days. Only a few cents from your dues goes to support PTA's work nationally, and not much more for state branches. When schools open this year, why don't you call and ask where you can join the PTA? If there's not a PTA at your nearest school, write the National PTA, 700 North Rush Street, Chicago, Illinois 60611, and ask how to start one. You, too, can be an achiever for children. Join the PTA—People Taking Action for every child.

Beware of Telephone Solicitors, Know Where Your Money is Going!

Both the office of the Alameda County District Attorney and that of the Contra Costa County DA have been deluged with complaints and inquiries recently, concerning solicitations for charitable purposes.

Over the past several years, according to a report issued jointly by the two county offices, it has been common practice for reputable organizations to enter into contract with private promoters — contracts which usually provide that the promoter will conduct a solicitation for funds for the organization or a charity which the organization supports. The solicitation campaign often takes the form of a telephone sale of tickets for a circus or other benefit show (the press has referred to such campaigns as "boiler room operations").

However, investigation has revealed that, in many of these campaigns, the amount of money actually going to the charity or reputable organization is a very small percentage of the total amount collected.

The District Attorneys' offices have discovered, in one instance, more than $60,000 was collected through telephone solicitations and the contributors were told the money was to be used for a certain charity—$48,000 went to the promoter, $9,500 to the organization whose name was used, and only $2,500 (approximately 4%) was contributed to the charity mentioned in the telephone pitch!

Because of many similar abuses, the State Legislature enacted a bill in March of this year, establishing procedures that must be adhered to in campaigns for charitable contributions.

Among other things, the statute requires that the prospective contributor must be told what percentage of his payment actually goes to the charity or organization mentioned in the sales pitch. The contributor must also be told exactly what percentage of his payment is deductible (from his income tax) as a charitable contribution. Failure of an organization or promoter to comply with this new ruling will result in action by the District Attorney's office.

In several cases, it was discovered that not only was the new statute not being followed, but also that the telephone solicitors were making false and misleading statements to potential contributors. Such statements may constitute violations of California Business and Professions Code No. 17500. It is recommended in future solicitation campaigns, that the organization whose name is being used should take effective steps to insure that their solicitors do not make any false or misleading statements.

For further clarification, please call the office of Alameda County District Attorney, Lowell Jensen at 874-6565.
